1/9/22: Beautiful Lion’s Mane and Shiitake mycelium

I did a lot wrong last November when I inoculated popcorn for the first time by myself. I was stressed, in a hurry and overwhelmed by the various videos I had watched and pages I had read. Doomed to fail.

But, I didn't get only nasty mold, got some nice Lion's Mane and Shiitake mycelium too.

Have to research how to best prep my substrate and will try some in bags, but also want some in the greenhouse. Temperature and humidity are my challenges.

Nice!
